MILLS MIDGETS HOLD MCKINLEY GRIDDEERS SAFE

Scoreless Tie Played on Alexander Field Saturday Afternoon; High School Loses

"Hold 'em, Mills" was the slogan yelled, when the midgets of Mills held the McKinley team to a 0-0 score on Alexander field last Saturday afternoon. The fight but fast squad of the Red and Green played with lots of speed until the referee blew his final signal that the game was over. About 500 students including interested fans and fanettes, witnessed the game.

In the first period of play it looked as though McKinley was going for a touchdown, carrying the ball within 25 yards of the goal, but luck was with Mills and held them back when McKinley fumbled the ball. The second quarter was played in the center of the field, neither side showing any gains. It was in the first period of the second half when McKinley again carried the ball within six yards of the goal for a touchdown. Here the ball was passed to Thompson for a center run. He made it all right but dropped the ball and Pak Kee of Mills saved his team from a touchdown when he recovered the ball.

Long Gain By Mills

The longest gain was made by Mills when a forward pass from Stephens to Ahn Soon Nam, including a gain of 12 yards, netted Mills 40 yards. Although it took two Mills men to hold a McKinley guard, Mills showed up well in her interference work. Mills used a delayed pass once, and Stephens, the peppery quarterback, made a gain for 15 yards. He had the McKinleyites fooled in this play.

Mills started things going in the latter part of the second half by line backs and end runs to McKinley's 45-yard line when the long pass was made to Ahn Soon Nam, the speedy end of the lightweights. Here Mills tried for a place kick. Hin Char sent the ball flying between the poles beneath the bar. After this play failed McKinley carried the ball, but was too late for a touchdown and the game ended on Mills' 35-yard line. "Duke" Puukii, Liberto and Okasaki did splendid work for Mills, the latter especially outclassed Needham of McKinley as a center. The two guards of the midgets had had luck, for each sustained a broken ankle. The support of Mills was strong from the sidelines, and the roosters for the Red and Green had the cheers of the Black and Gold out to pieces with their new songs and yells.

With such a good start Mills should hold the other teams to low scores.

The lineups were as follows:

PLANK SLOW PITCHER; SCHAEFER HURRIES HIM

Eddie Plank is the slowest pitcher baseball has known since the passing of Slow Joe Doyle. The famous veteran southpaw of the Browns goes through enough preliminary motions before throwing each ball to the batter to qualify in a Hawaiian room as a hula hula artist. When the Yankees were in St. Louis not long ago Plank was in his slowest form. He pitched for the Browns on Tuesday. It took about an hour to get two innings played. The Yankees and the crowd were exasperated, but Eddie went on in his slow way. Finally, with Gedeon at bat, Plank seemed to add a few preliminary motions to his repertoire before delivering each ball. "German" Schaefer stepped forward from the coaching box. "Have a heart, Eddie," he shouted. "We leave here late Thursday night, and you've already used up the better part of Tuesday."

ROGAN HOLDS CHINESE HITLESS FOR EIGHT INNINGS SUNDAY AFTERNOON

25th Infantry Wreckers Defeat Locals By Score of 6 to 0—Wrecking Crew Captain Fans 12 Men and Almost Breaks Into Hall of Fame—Hoon Ki Pitches Good Ball But Errors By Kan Yen Give Schofield Contingent Five of Their Runs

Wilbur Rogan, all around star of the 25th Infantry team, almost broke into the hall of fame yesterday afternoon at the local ball yard. He had eight-ninths of the honors down on the old plaque when Kai Luke and Lang Akana upset the fame part of it by hitting singles to left field. In fact Rogan was in the best form, and for eight innings not a Chinese player secured a bingle.

Regarding the score the 25th Infantry Wreckers secured six, while the Chinese didn't care much about dusting off the man, except when at bat. Hoon Ki, who was on the mound for the Chinese, deserved a better fate, and only one earned run was secured off his delivery. Kan Yen was a busy body with the drop kicks, etc., and as a result five other runs were scored. They Sent For Him

When time for the game arrived Kan Yen was not at the park, and the Chinese despatched an automobile after him. They should have sent a velocipede or a Ford. Kan Yen might not have arrived so soon, and the score might have been 1 to 6 at the end of the ninth chukker. It was a nice game to watch in short-field, and Rogan hurled a grand game. The crowd was pulling for him to retire the three men in the ninth, but fickle fortune which has a habit of butting into the sport was among those present and Kai Luke's drive sailed serenely between Kid Swinton in left and Cullens in center. Then Lang Akana followed suit, and the so hit game was spoiled.

Rogan At His Best

Rogan got a shut out and deserved it. He had his fast ball working, and even Oscar Johnson had a hard time locating the benders. Rogan sent an even dozen Chinese back to the bench via the wig-wag route. Pitching of the kind Rogan dished out on Sunday will be good enough to stop any of the visitors who may come here this fall.

Old Jupiter Pluvius certainly pulled a coner yesterday afternoon, and the sky juice particles kept a large crowd away from the park, but despite the inclement weather and clouds which continued to hover, a goodly crowd gathered to cheer on their favorites.

25th Score

In the first inning Swinton singled, but was left. En Sue filed out and Kai Luke and Lang joined the Signal Corps. In the second Saka Smith singled, and was left, and Rogan was responsible for the three men put out in the second. In the third chukker Cullens chucked for a single, and Swinton sacrificed. Then Rogan and Johnson singled and Cullens romped homeward. The Chinese went out in order. In the fourth Fagin singled, but the side was retired. The Chinese had a chance in the fourth after En Sue filed out; Kai Luke was hit on the chin and Lang waited out four, but Ah Lee pulled a Daubert, and Kan Yen rolled to pitcher. A single, a sacrifice and an error gave the Wreckers one in the fifth, and Rogan fanned the three Chinese batsmen who dared march up to the plate. He had everything, and the trio failed to foul.

Errors Make Runs

Although the Wreckers did not get a hit off Hoon Ki in the sixth, they scored two runs. Moore's walk, a sacrifice and two errors by Kan Yen gave the Wreckers their runs. Kan Yen's error in the seventh gave the Wreckers two more runs.

The Chinese had one chance in the ninth inning. Rogan had been pitching perfect ball, and not a semblance of a hit had been made off his delivery, when Kai Luke came up and drove a hit to left field. Lang followed with another and Ah Lee came up to bat. He hit to Rogan, who caught Kai Luke at third, and Kan Yen hit to Smith and caught Ah Lee at second, and Lang tried to come home, but was caught in the mud, and the

PUNAHOU WINS FROM KAMEHAMEHA WHEN HAWKINS RECOVERS FUMBLE

Touchdown After Error By Blue and Gold Half Back Gives Punahou Team First Victory of Year—Two Teams About Evenly Matched at Present—Poor Judgment at Times By Opponents Give Other Team Advantage—Eaton Kam. Star

Old Dame Fortune, who occasionally attends a football game, had her weather eye on George Hawkins, ex-McKinley halfback, who is now wearing the Blue and Gold, on Saturday afternoon at Kam field, and Hawkins fell for the old dame strong, picked up a fumble and dashed toward the goal line for a touchdown, which gave Punahou a victory over Kamehameha by a score of 7 to 0.

It was the first battle of the two teams this year, and the first contest that the spectators had an opportunity to witness, and despite the fact that the weather was more suited for swimming, esthetic dancing, or surfing, the boys who wore the mole-skins did very well indeed.

Ivory Present

As far as the game was concerned the two teams played with their arms and chests, but the abundance of gray matter was sadly missing. The two teams pulled plays in the hot weather which would have made Fred Merkley look like the professor of psychology in an eastern institution. With two minutes to play the Kam men were hammering the line for gains of one yard in the hot sun and never a thought of kicking.

Punahou kicked many times when the other play would have been the better, and Peterson in the early part of the game must have averaged about 11 yards and 4 inches. Kam never took advantage of this, and still kept plugging the line for a few yard gains. Later in the game Peterson got his kicks off in good shape, and gained considerable ground for Punahou.

Evenly Matched

The two teams as they shape up now are about evenly matched, and if anything Kam has a slight advantage in the ground gaining ability by line plunging, as Eaton is superior to the Punahou backs in gaining ground on line plunging. On end runs, and plays off tackle the two teams shape up about the same. Neither line is as good as the lines of last year.

Eaton was perhaps the most prominent figure in the game and his hard work in hitting the line meant many gains for Kam. They gained more ground through his work than Punahou did, but fumbles were responsible for the loss of the ball on a number of occasions. Eaton has improved on his work of last year and should be a big factor in the coming games.

Backs Run Well

Kauhane played a nice game in the backfield for Punahou and Hawkins also starred in making end runs. His quick work in picking the fumble out of the pack was the one thing that gave Punahou the victory. Hussey and Dowser, the transplanted ends, showed to advantage in the backfield, but the Kam interference wasn't working at its best.

Punahou missed John Gifford in the line Saturday, and they also missed the punting of Correa, and the runs around end by Napthaa. Had these three men been in the game, Kam would have been up against it. Then, on the other hand, had Harry and Godfrey Bertelmann with Simeona and Anahu been in the game, Punahou would have been the under dog.

Considering the heat, the plays of the day must be overlooked, and with two more weeks, both teams should shape up in good fashion. The championship is a long way off, and at the present time it looks like a toss up. Punahou has a number of good substitutes and Leal and Zane looked especially good.

Kauhane Makes 40 Yards

A run by Hussey in the first period was the only play of note, as Kam and Punahou were bucking the line, and Peterson was punting to a very short distance. Punahou was running the right end to a great extent in this period with short gains. In the second period Noble Kauhane got around the end for a 40-yard gain, then Punahou lost the ball. Kam gained 20 yards when Hussey took a forward pass, and then added 10 more on cross backs.

Let George Do It

Playing for a touchdown the Kam offense got mixed, and the ball was fumbled, and Hawkins raced around, picked it up and ran for the goal line with no one near him. Kauhane kicked goal and the score was 7 to 0. Clark went in for Kukoni, and the line strengthened. Baldwin stopped two plays here and was playing a hard
